IN THE BASEBALL WORLD.

NEW YORKS REGAIN THE LEAD, BEATING THE PITTSBURGS.

Hold First Place in National League by One Point, Chicagos Not Playing-A Couple of Kickers Set Down-Reds

Make Triple Play, but Brooklyns Win The New York Nationals are back in first place, their tenure of the same being the lim margin of one point. They beat the ittsburgs yesterday, while the Boston-Chicago game was stopped by rain in the first inning with the score 1 to 0 in favor of Boston. The Brooklyns won from the Cin-cinnatis, and the Philadelphias upset all calculations by following one victory over St. Louis with another the next day. This put St. Louis in last place. The brightest iewel in a collection of scintillating plays was a triple by the Cincinnatis in the fifth inning. With Strang on second base and Sheckard on first Dobbs lined the ball to Beckley. Jocund Jake gathered the ball in, thus disposing of Dobbs, and stepped on first hase ere Sheckard could return. He then threw to Corcoran at second. Corcoran took the throw while stretched at full length on the ground, but with his foot on the bag. As Strang could not get back in time he was a third victim of the continuous turn. The play was an exact replica of the triple made by the New York Americans against the Philadelphias. Of almost equal merit with this rem were a couple of electrifying stops by Bill Dahlen. The scope of Bill's useful ness as a fielder knew no bounds, and he ormoed from erag to crag eating up ground hits.

LUKE WARD'S GAME FINISH.

BREAKS DOWN IN THE RACE, YET WINS BY A NOSE.

Stands a Long Drive in the Handleap and Beats the Favorite, The Musketeer -Brigand Takes the Baychester Stakes-Whitney's Inflexible in Front

Although he broke down in front at the last sixteenth pole and will probably be retired for the rest of the season, H. M. Ziegler's Luke Ward, by Luke Blackburn-Maud Ward, won the last race at Morris Park yesterday afternoon by a nostril from Mrs. Frank Farrell's The Musketeer. It was one of the greatest exhibitions of gameness ever seen on a racetrack, Luke standing a terrific lashing from Bullman from the head of the stretch. The race was at six furlongs, over the Withers course, and The Musketeer was a receding favorite at 11 to 5, receiving no backing from Mr. Farrell, who did not believe he could handle top weight and run down the hill. St. Daniel was second in favor at fives, with 6 to 1 quoted against both Luke Ward and Futurita, while the Sullivanites backed Tim D., Jr., down to sevens. Almost from the start it was a bitter struggle between The Musketeer and Luke Ward. Both were under the whip at the head of the stretch. with St. Daniel and Knight of Harlem closing upon them with every stride.

The result was in doubt right up to the wire, where Luke Ward got the verdict by a whisker, his time being 1:15. The Musketeer, St. Daniel and Knight of Harlem followed in a bunch, heads apart, a named. Bullman quickly jumped to the ground and Luke Ward hobbled back to the scales in agony. This was the most thrilling finish of the day. Although W. C. Whitney's Reliable was an odds-on favorite for the Baychester Stakes for three-year-olds at a mile, he did not win because of a poor ride by Burns. James Galway's Brigand, third choice at eights, though he was last getting away from the post, quickly ran over his field and showed the way to the end, Fuller driving him home half a length before the favorite in 1:40%. Four lengths back Sun Gold, 12 to 1, took third money from Red Knight by a head.

Mr. Whitney's colors, however, flashed to the front in the second race, for two-yearolds at four and a half furlongs straightaway. Inflexible, the son of Hamburg-Berriedale, third choice, did the trick by coming with a mighty rush under Burns's heavy drive in the last furlong and beating the favorite, Collector Jessup, on the post by a head in 0 52, which equalled the track record, held jointly by Handpress and Hazelwood. Masedo, who led for half the distance, was third, two and a quarter distance, was third, two and a quarter lengths away.

The colors of R. H. McCarter Potter, owner of Pequest Stud, were seen for the first time in the opening event, a highweight selling race at six and a half furlongs on the Withers course. The Carmelite, a three-year-old son of St. Carlo-imp. Amelia, backed down to 4 to 1, carried Mr. Potter's colors in majestic style, leading almost from the start and winning easily by a length and a half over St. Sever, second choice, with Rene, 12 to 1, eight lengths away. Blue and Orange, the favorite, never had a chance to get up.

away. Blue and Orange, the favorite, never had a chance to get up.
Foxhall P. Keene's Stolen Moments, even money favorite in the fourth race, for maidens, at seven furlongs on the Withers course, came from away back and getting a hustling ride from Gannon caught Mesmer, second choice, just in time to take the race by a length and a half in 1:26%. Wyefield, a good thing, after showing the way to the turn, lasted long enough to finish third, seven lengths behind.

"Father Bill" Daly's Torchlight and George Forbee's Past were equal favorites in the Inasmuch as the lack of available funds has constrained Columbia from entering a training for five months in preparation for training for five months in preparation for that race, will be entered in the Harlem Regatta on Decoration Day instead, probably in the intermediate eight-cared race for the Watson can. The university is to be better represented in the Harlem races this year then ever before. No less than six different eight-cared crews are preparing to enter the several events. These are the new graduate eight, the Poughkeepsie 'Varsity, the Ithaca boat, the third 'Varsity and the first and second freshman crews. In addition the university will be represented by a senior four, two figures, and Arthur J. Fraser, '04, who won the junior single scull race last year will row again.

The date is set for some time in the latter part of June. The Yale team was recently organized and it will be the first polo match played between university teams. The Yale team is receiving many challenges from different teams through the country, and if they accept all these they will play a game a week till the close of the college year.

The Princeton team, newly organized, is anxious to meet the men from New Haven, and a match will soon be arranged.

Columbia Lacrosse in Financial Straits. After the most supesseful season in the in financial straits and unless funds are immediately forthcoming the remaining games on the schedule will have to be cancelled. Dr. Albert H. Gieschen, '99, the graduate ccach, has issued a statement that unless $150 is raised at once the team will have to abandon its trip to Cambridge on Saturday to meet Harvard in the final game for the championship of the Inter-University Lacrossee League. As a last expedient the managers will endeavor to negotiate a loan consistent with the rules of the University comptroller of sports so that the Harvard game can be played.

members of the team are: O. Rawlinson, F. Freake and W. Buckmaster.

Bothner and Luttbeg Wrestle to a Draw.

SCRANTON, Pa. May 19.—George Bothner and Max Luttbeg wrestled before a fair-sized crowd at the Armory in this city last night. The bout was called shortly before 10 o'clock. The men struggled for an hour without either houring obtained a fall when the match was declared a draw. Luttbeg was the aggressor. The crowd look the bout tily and there were loud shouts of "Fake." in financial straits and unless funds are im-

E. Madden Gets $9,000 for Two More Two-Year-(Mds-E. E. Smathers Says It Is Up to E. R. Thomas to Make a Match-Selling-Race War Continues.

The sale of Major Daingerfield by C. A Draper to W. B. Leeds for, it is said, $25,000 was consummated yesterday, according to general report at Morris Park yesterday afternoon. Mr. Leeds would not close the general report at Morris Park yesterday afternoon. Mr. Leeds would not close the transaction, so the story goes, until a veterinary had pronounced the son of Handspring—Mon Droit perfectly sound. Major Daingerfield will be prepared for all of the big handicaps by Tom Healey, who is handling all of the horses owned jointly by Mr. Leeds and Andrew Miller. Those who have seen Major Daingerfield work this spring are predicting great things for him. Last year when he was owned by Gen. McLewee that gentleman made the prediction that if the Major began this campaign in sound condition he would prove an even greater horse than his stable companion. Gold Heels, Mr. Leeds, horsemen say, has made no mistake in buying the famous Handspring colt.

E. E. Smathers, owner of McChesney, visited the track yesterday as one of the passengers on the tally-ho conch Good Times. Sensationalists immediately started the story that Mr. Smathers was going to hunt up E. R. Thomas, the new owner of Hermis, Mr. Smathers however, did not see Mr. Thomas. The owner of McChesney will start in the Harlem National Handicap at Chicago and will later come to take his measure.

Marylebone Cricket Club Decides Not to A. G. SPALDING & BROS.

Cricket Club held at Lord's on May 6 the proposal to widen the wicket from 8 inches to 8 inches was voted upon. The ballot showed that 215 members were in favor of the alteration and 199 against it. As, however, a two-thirds majority is necessary before a law can be changed, the proposal was not carried and the rule remains as it was.

At this meeting Lord Alverstone was elected president and the following added to the compatter: A. G. Steel, K. C.; the Earl of Littchfeld, Major W. L. Harrdy and F. H. E. Cunliffe.

The opening match of the season in the English county championship series was played at the Oval in London on May 6, rain preventing play on the day scheduled for the opening. The bowling of Hargreave, who had arrived from the antipodes the previous evening, embled Warwickshire to win unexpectedly, by 126 runs. The score was: Warwickshire, 222 and 55 declared for twickets, Surrey, 82 and 69. Hargreave captured 6 wickets for 41 runs in the first innings and 9 for 35 in the second, showed that 215 members were in favor of the
